POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

Title: Intern, International Economics

Location: In person in Washington, DC Office

Pay rate: $18.50/hr

Founded in 1921, the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) is a leading nonprofit membership organization, research center, and publisher, with headquarters in New York, an office in Washington, DC, and programs nationwide. It is dedicated to increasing America's understanding of the world and contributing ideas to U.S. foreign policy. CFR's 5,000+ members are leaders in international affairs and foreign policy. CFR also publishes Foreign Affairs, the preeminent magazine on global issues, and provides up-to-date information about the world and U.S. foreign policy on its award-winning website, CFR.org.

CFR's Blavatnik and Robina Franklin Williams internships give selected interns the opportunity to receive training in the area of foreign policy, as well as skills training in areas such as writing, research, and program planning.

The intern will work with the Steven A. Tananbaum Distinguished Fellow for International Economics on a new project on Renewing Capitalism, which will focus on the changes brought by AI.

The major responsibilities of this position will include (but are not limited to):

- Conduct research and help identify current AI policy proposals
- Conduct research on matters of economic policy such as the Federal Reserve
- Contribute to drafting, editing, and analysis of materials for the team, including newsletters, research memos, meeting briefs, and social media posts
- Assist with logistical support for meetings and roundtables

Qualifications:

- Undergraduate or graduate student majoring in international relations, economics, applied economics, business, public policy, finance, political economy, or a related field
- Previous research or internship experience is welcomed but not required
- Strong attention to detail and resourcefulness
- Strong research, writing, and editing skills
- Proficiency using Microsoft Office Suite; experience using Excel or another data analysis software is preferred

CFR's internships are funded by the generous gifts of the Blavatnik Family Foundation, Robina Foundation, and the Franklin Williams Family.

The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) is committed to fostering a foreign policy community in the United States that is more representative of American society, recognizing that diverse backgrounds and perspectives contribute to broader, more informed participation in the foreign policy debate and lead to an enhanced understanding of the world and the United States' role therein. To that end, CFR is dedicated to continuing to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion throughout its work and workplace by building a more diverse membership and staff, producing and dispensing thoughtful analysis on a broad range of foreign policy issues, and developing relevant, wide-reaching programming that also serves to expand the foreign policy talent pipeline to underrepresented populations.
