Jafer Ahmad

Jafer Ahmad advises and invests in AI and frontier tech startups. Previously, he led strategic engagement at Eric Schmidt's Special Competitive Studies Project; led government programs at computer vision startups; managed strategic engagement at the U.S. Defense Innovation Unit (DIU); served as a speechwriter for Secretary of Defense Ash Carter; and coordinated international tech initiatives at the Pentagon. Earlier, he researched law, philosophy, and scriptural exegesis as a Fulbright Fellow in Jordan. He has regional experience across Europe, West Asia, and South Asia.