

Jane Hartley

Jane Hartley is the Chairman of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Jane served as the United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland from 2022 to 2025.

During her tenure the United Kingdom underwent a period of great volatility with four different Prime Ministers. It was also marked by two Monarchs with the death of HM Queen Elizabeth II and the coronation of King Charles III.

She was Ambassador to the French Republic and the Principality of Monaco from 2014 to 2017. She was awarded the Legion of Honor by The President of France for her work against terrorism.

Jane was Chief Executive Officer of Observatory Group, an international economic and political advisory firm. Before founding the Observatory Group, she was Chief Executive Officer of the G7 Group, a premier research firm providing macroeconomic and political analysis to global clients.

Hartley served as a member of the Visiting Committee of the Kennedy School at Harvard University, as well as the Executive Committee of the Kennedy School. Jane was Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Sesame Workshop (Sesame Street) and was on the board of Directors of Memorial Sloan Kettering. She was a member of the Board of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and is also a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Previously, Hartley was a member of the board of Heidrick & Struggles and a Presidential appointee to the Board of Directors of the Corporation for National and Community Service. She held positions as Vice President at both Universal (MCA) and Westinghouse Broadcasting. Jane served at the White House during the Carter Administration.
