Morgan Hitzig

Morgan Hitzig is a General Partner at Overmatch, where she invests in companies that intersect extensively with the public sector. Previously, Morgan was an investor at Venrock, where she focused on similar themes at the intersection of technology and government. Prior to Venrock, Morgan was Head of Growth at Peregrine Technologies, a data platform for state and local government agencies. She also served as Senior Director of Global Operations and Strategic Partnerships at Dataminr, and held positions across a variety of industries, including in counterterrorism at NYPD, finance at Bank of America, journalism at CNN, and consulting at the Scowcroft Group. She is an Officer in the United States Navy Reserve where she completed overseas tours in the Middle East and Asia.