Sarah M. Broadbent

Sarah M. Broadbent is a senior intelligence analyst and combat-proven leader known for turning integrated analysis into actionable strategies for air and cyberspace campaigns. After 11 years on active duty, she now serves in the Oregon Air National Guard as the 173FW's Director of Intelligence and Lead Cyber Integrator. She is also the founder of Valkyrie Tek, a small business connecting specialized expertise with national security and industry needs. Sarah holds a B.S. from the U.S. Air Force Academy and an M.A. from the University of Oklahoma. She proudly volunteers as a volleyball coach and tutor for students with dyslexia.